Revenue Analysis

Figure 3 below shows quarterly revenue from Q1 2024 through Q1 2025. The chart illustrates a consistent upward trend, with the steepest quarter-over-quarter increase occurring in Q4 2024 when several large enterprise contracts closed ahead of schedule.

Figure 3: Quarterly Revenue Trend ($M). Revenue rose from $42.1M in Q1 2024 to $58.3M in Q1 2025. Management attributes Q4 strength to seasonal budget flush and a 14% uplift from Analytics Pro upsells. The Q1 2025 figure includes $3.2M from the newly acquired DataPulse unit.

Looking ahead, the finance team projects full-year 2025 revenue of $230-$240M, assuming continued NRR above 115% and successful rollout of the AI Insights module in H2.

Quarterly Revenue Detail

Table 1 summarizes quarterly revenue, year-over-year growth, and operating margin for each period. All figures are in millions of USD unless otherwise noted.

Quarter	Revenue ($M)	YoY Growth	Op. Margin
Q1 2024	42.1	12.3%	19.8%
Q2 2024	45.8	14.1%	20.5%
Q3 2024	49.2	15.7%	21.2%
Q4 2024	54.6	17.9%	22.8%
Q1 2025	58.3	18.5%	23.1%

The table confirms accelerating growth through the second half of 2024. Operating margin improved each quarter as infrastructure costs were amortised over a larger customer base. Q1 2025 margin of 23.1% exceeded the board target of 22.5%.

Risk factors include potential macroeconomic slowdown in EMEA and increased competition in the analytics segment. Mitigation strategies focus on multi-year contract incentives and deeper integration with existing CRM and ERP platforms.
